Supplementary Material 1: Recruitment Poster

REC ref: 13/SC/0206
V2.0 Date 17.12.2013

DO YOU SUFFER FROM IBS?

The University of Southampton together with King's College London are undertaking a research study to assess the effectiveness of Cognitive Behavioural Therapy and a Self-management Website for people with Irritable Bowel Syndrome. If you have been diagnosed with IBS, have on-going symptoms and would like to take part, please contact Gilly O'Reilly for more details.

ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk
ACTIB STUDY 023 80241066 actibstudy@soton.ac.uk