Corrigendum: Impact of NHS 111 Online on the NHS 111 telephone service and urgent care system: a mixed-methods study

Janette Turner,1 Emma Knowles,1 Rebecca Simpson,1 Fiona Sampson,1* Simon Dixon,1 Jaqui Long,1 Helen Bell-Gorrod,1 Richard Jacques,1 Joanne Coster,1 Hui Yang,2 Jon Nicholl,1 Peter Bath,1,2 Daniel Fall3 and Tony Stone1

1School of Health and Related Research (ScHARR), University of Sheffield, Sheffield, UK
2School of Information Studies, University of Sheffield, Sheffield, UK
3Sheffield Emergency Care Forum, Sheffield, UK

*Corresponding author

Corrigendum issued March 2022
Corrigendum DOI: 10.3310/hsdr09210-c202203
Original DOI: 10.3310/hsdr09210

This report should be referenced as follows:

Corrigendum notice

Impact of NHS 111 Online on the NHS 111 telephone service and urgent care system: a mixed-methods study

Janette Turner, Emma Knowles, Rebecca Simpson, Fiona Sampson, Simon Dixon, Jaqui Long, Helen Bell-Gorrod, Richard Jacques, Joanne Coster, Hui Yang, Jon Nicholl, Peter Bath, Daniel Fall and Tony Stone

This paper is corrected as follows:

Tony Stone has been added to the author list on the title and abstract pages, and text stating his contribution to the report has been added to the acknowledgements section.

Reference